information | communication | technology

This is a coverage guide for accessing the World Cup matches using either a VPN or a DNS (E.g. Getflix).

- For VPN users you will need to select the region of the channel you wish to access and then navigate to the correct channel.
- For Getflix users, the region is already pre-configured and so just access via the channel

UK Coverage:

BBC iPlayer and ITV for different group stages matches. It is TBC for quarter finals and beyond.

Full schedules: <https://www.bbc.com/sport/football/61011847>

AUS Coverage:

SBS on Demand app has full coverage for the whole event for free.

USA Coverage:

Peacock will stream first 12 games for free and will need to sign up for Peacock Premium (S$7.48/month) for the subsequent matches. You can subscribe using App Store account directly without a US credit card. Only downside is all matches with have Spanish commentary.

For English commentary, Fox Sports will broadcast the whole event, but requires a Pay TV account like DirectTV, Verizon or Hulu.

Please remember these are work around solutions and may be glitchy. If you have problems with one channel, try another one.
